

I oppose loosening the rules designed to promote and protect diversity of media ownership. These rules were adopted to ensure that the public would receive a diverse range of viewpoints from the media, and not simply the opinions of a handful of media conglomerates.

For a democracy to work properly for all its people requires a public media that is independent of special interests and capable of expressing diverse viewpoints. The FCC must not undertake any action that limits the media to do its job in the public interest.